

STATE CONTROL OF PUBLIC UTILITIES IS COMING SOON, PREDICTS GOV. E. F. DUNNE

Illinois Executive Tells Governors That the People Will Operate Utility Corporations Within Near Future

Public control of public utilities is one of the crying needs of modern times. In the opinion of Gov. Edward B. Flynn of Illinois, recognized as one of the best informed men on the subject in the country today:

Cleveland Mayor advanced his theories and ideas on the question before the House of Governors at the Housing Session yesterday morning in his address on "The Growth of Administrative Control." It is certain that there is no demand for its repeal or vital amendment by the citizens of Wisconsin after six years of experience therewith.

So far as I have been able to investigate it seems to be meeting all of the demands and requirements of that great and progressive state.

Many of the most progressive and best informed political economists of the country have commended it in most emphatic terms.

"Every state in the Union, within a few years, will have secured practical control of its utilities," said the Illinois executive. "If public control should fail, I consider that decidedly unlikely, the only alternative is public ownership and operation."

Governor Dunne told his fellow executives of a public utilities act which has recently been passed by the Illinois legislature. The new law gives every city in the state the right to own and operate all of its utilities. "If even goes so far as to give the cities the privilege to purchase the product of such utilities at wholesale and sell it to the public at retail," said the gov-

And yet while it is admirably adapted to the requirements of Wisconsin and most other states, it falls far short of covering certain situations which prevail in other commonwealths.

In New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and some other states there exist tremendously great cities such as New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, which have within their corporate limits greater populations than exist in most of the states of the Union—impertinent cities which have utility problems peculiar to themselves, differing in many respects from the utility problems of the ordinary city. These great cities are as well equipped financially, scientifically, and strategically to cope with the great utility corporations as any state.

His address, in part, follows:

Gov. Dunne's Address:

"Illinois has just adopted a most comprehensive law on the subject. The method pursued has been that they can secure high-grade lawyers, engineers, accountants and other experts just as easily as the utility corporations who occupy their streets.

Their citizens are possessed of civic pride and confidence in their ability to manage their own affairs.

A strong sentiment exists in such cities in favor of the contention that the settlement of all questions relating to the intramunicipal utilities of such cities should be made by some committee or commission elected or appointed within such cities. No provision for such

The law, which has been in force in Wisconsin for about six years, has been pronounced by many of the advanced thinkers of the day as the best and fairest law as yet enacted for the control of public utilities in the interest of the commonwealth. It is claimed

For it that it is securing for the citizens of Wisconsin adequate service at reasonable rates without working condescension or injustice to the owners of

Eulogized for Trying to

THE HAGUE, Aug. 29. The ceremony of the unveiling today by Anthony Carnegie of a bust of the late Dr. William Cramer, in the hall of justice of the new peace palace, was an occasion for a great demonstration in favor of the peace movement. 8

Mr. Carmichael was loudly cheered as he entered the hall and his speech was quently associated with anarchy. The Right Rev. Thomas H. Burr, of the House of Commons, replied to Mr. Carnegie. He said that Carnegie pointed favorably to the education of Germans from the uni-ward, despite the Balkan warlord Weizsäcker, president of the Interparliamentary union, enlisted America, who he said had provided "the weapons which enabled him to accomplish so much in behalf of peace."

JAMES J. TOWNSEND DIES

Seven weeks after his wife died in Colorado Springs, James J. Townsend, president of the Chicago Stock exchange, dropped dead of apoplexy Thursday in his office in Chicago. News of his death was received yesterday by W. A. Ottis & Co., brokers. Townsend was prominent in business and political circles in Chicago. He was a personal friend of Governor Dunne of Illinois, and the latter expressed great regret yesterday when informed of his death. Townsend was well known in Colorado Springs. Three years ago he brought his wife to this city, hoping that her health would be restored by the change in climate. After that he occupied a home here and spent a great deal of time in the city, until Mrs. Townsend died, July 10, 1913.

On Labor day, Monday, all banks in the city will be closed. The possibility will be open until noon only, with the exception of the money order and postal savings windows, which will not open. Pleuritis a Severe Form of Exema

A Method of Home Treatment that is Very Effective.

There is probably no other remedy so well known as S. S. S. for the blood. It is remarkably effective in that form of skin disease known as pleuritis, or intense itching. The action of S. S. S. is rapid. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutriment. And the medical elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to the well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book on skin diseases, compiled by the famous dermatologist, Dr. E. C. Pratt, of the St. Louis Skin and Syphilis Clinic, Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice, to all who are struggling with blood disease. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of your druggist. It will surprise you with its wonderful action in the blood. Don't let anything hinder you as you seek relief. The only reason why people about the city call to ask for S. S. S. is that they are so much interested in it. It is the only remedy that can be used to buy anything in place of S. S. S.

LIGHTS ON AND SHAN KIVE GROUNDS READY

Rag Dancing and Concerts to Be Prominent in Next Week's Festivals

The lighting system of the Shan Kive grounds was switched on yesterday for the first time and tried out. Everything is in good shape and the lights will remain on every night up to the last show is over with the exception of the special lighting of the grounds. The lighting will be controlled by the night and illuminated in similar manner.

The concessions are all set with the exception of the soft drinks, which were being had for yesterday. Chairman Lowe of the concessions committee, failing to find anyone wishing to build a dancing floor and run a dance on the grounds, has decided to have dancing anyway and has arranged for music Monday afternoon and evening for dancing on the Indian platform. At the Chicago stock exchange last week the "ragging" stand proved very successful.

Verne Elliott, summer national champion bronc rider, will be riding in the bronco busting. Henry Webb of Wheatland, Wyo., also has been notified, but has not as yet accepted.

Young Elliott was unable to ride this year at Cheyenne owing to an accident last winter when he was thrown. However, he says that he is in fair shape and would like to get into the contest for the $350 saddle.

Elliott won the championship in Cheyenne in 1912, and afterwards won the saddle at the sports at Wheatland, Wyo. He has ridden championships at Sacramento, Cal., Reno, Nev., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Owing to some misunderstanding the management wishes to announce that the Shan Kive is practically free to all. The management is spending several thousand dollars to give free shows, including the Indians. Ten cents for our fare is all that anyone need spend to have a good time. All the band concerts are free. There is no charge to see the Indians in their camp. There is no charge for any of the cowboy exhibitions on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

The only charge made is 25 cents admission to see the Roman circus. Of course the various side shows and concessions on the ground will make a charge. That is why they buy concessions and the Shan Kive hopes to save part of its expenses out of these concessions.

There is a charge of 50 cents for admission to the masquerade ball on Thursday evening and a dollar for a box seat. At no other time is there a charge for admission to the grandstand.

Three thousand about seats will be built up around the cowboy enclosure at Shan Kive parking an admission of 10 cents will be charged to occupy them, while the cowboy stunts are in progress on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, but there is ample room around the corral for all to stand or sit on the rocks and see the events free of charge.

A list of subscribers to the Shan Kive fund was published several days ago and since that time a number of firms and business men have made contributions to the fund. It was decided yesterday to publish for the next two or three days the names of the new subscribers who send in contributions.

EX-GOVERNOR DIX BOOSTER FOR PIKES PEAK REGION

Ex-Governor John A. Dix of New York was with a group of his friends here during the previous week, and says he is very fond of Colorado Springs, and would like to live here.

"Your climate is simply wonderful," said enthusiastically, "and the fact that it is so particularly so is the peculiar quality of the atmosphere that is deadly to germ life. Why, I don't see how anyone can ever get sick. Natural conditions make this a most attractive place. Not in addition, there is the community and hospitality of the people. You seem to have attracted here people from all over the world who represent the best class of civilization and who could never get sick and more delightful people in my opinion, and warm hospitality. I am sure that all the diseases that I do, under a great debt to the city and its people."

Governor Dix was particularly interested in the industries, mines and agricultural products. He has opinion that Colorado is a large producer of copper, silver, gold, and other minerals, especially in the Pikes Peak region. He also said that the people of Colorado are very hospitable and would be glad to receive him at any time.

O. H. Shoup to Lead Volunteer Firemen

All the old-time pioneer volunteer firemen of Colorado Springs, from 1880 to 1913, will march in the Shan Kive parade Tuesday morning. Behind a decorated cart bearing two beautiful young girls, according to arrangements made at a meeting of the volunteer firemen in the city hall, a large number of the old-time firemen will march.

Two-day meetings in which the women will meet at the home of Tejon will take place in the morning and in the afternoon. At least 100, as many as were in last year's parade, are expected to take part. Carriages will be provided for the older women, who cannot be expected to stand a long march. The women will be one of the few delegations in the parade to walk.

Officers for next year were elected at last night's meeting. As follows: O. H. Shoup, president; Charles R. Perkins, vice president; Lawson Sumner, secretary; and Charles E. Allen, treasurer.

The daughter of A. Mitchell, Engad, Ky., had a bad case of kidney trouble and they feared her health was permanently impaired. Mr. Mitchell says: "She was in terrible shape, but I got her to take Foley's Kidney Pills and now she is completely cured. Women are more liable to have kidney trouble than men, and will find Foley's Kidney Pills a safe, reliable and honest medicine. Robinson Drug Co., Adm."

TWO HURT IN SCRAPPY POLO CONTEST; TOURNAMENT ENDS TODAY; MIDLAND BAND TO PLAY

Prairie Dogs Defeat Sheridan and Will Meet Cheyenne Four Today for the Lyle Cup; Ponies to Race

The most fiercely contested polo contest ever witnessed in Colorado Springs ended yesterday afternoon when the Denver Prairie Dogs defeated the Sheridan team by the score of 6 to 2. A lot of neck and neck riding of umbling ponies and of skillful team work could have enjoyed himself to his heart's content yesterday, and added to the daring play came two accidents, both of which narrowly escaped being fatal.

In the fourth quarter as the teams were scrapping it out at the east goal, a fier in a desperate effort to block the ball struck Milton McCoy of the Sheridan team above the right eye with his mallet, putting a serious gash and temporarily stunning him. McCoy reeled in the saddle and fell to the ground, his left foot retained by the stirrup. The horse started to gallop off, dragging the player, but La Pier jumped from his mount and prevented that might have been a casualty. McCoy after a short rest resumed play.

Symes' Nerve a Feature.
The greatest exhibition of nerve of the entire tournament and probably the factor in the winning of the Prairie Dogs was J. Foster Symes' gait in kicking with the same although his left shoulder and that means, his mallet shoulder—had been badly bruised by a horse kick. Following the fifth period Symes leaped from his pony and sat down to attend his sprained animal, led by a stable boy whistled as he neared Symes and kicked him a terrific blow on the right shoulder, badly lacerating the arm but not breaking any bones.

With no one to substitute, Symes agreed to continue the game and although it pained him intensely to swing the mallet, nevertheless he rode and played as hard as previous to his accident. Every kick he made but he remained in the game and it was his work that won the game and the team a well deserved defeat.

The two teams were well matched as ponies and to play and the Sheridan quartet had been granted a handicap of 1 1/2 goals. From the start the riding off tactics of both teams made the game a dangerous one and several players narrowly escaped being killed in a scrimmage.

A accurate strikes and taking chances in running plays gave the Prairie Dogs the advantage, as the ponies of the Sheridan four were just as good. Bullington's sledhammer blows that send the willow either through the air or hobbling along the green, probably featured the Wyoming's offensive play, while the defensive work of McCoy for the Blacks and La Pier for the Whites.

JEROME WINS BY SIATEGY IN THAW CASE

Prisoner Will Be Produced
on Habeas Corpus Writ
Next Wednesday

MAY YET BE EXTRADITED

Thaw's Lawyers Surprised by Move. Predict They Will Win, Though

SHEPHERD, Dec. 30.—A Harry K. Thaw's favorite, though not affecting, action in the New York courts the day of habits corpse was turned against him today by his prosecutor, William Travers Jerome, as a means of forcing Thaw into court here next Tuesday in order that the immigration authorities may deport him to Vermont, in what Jerome hopes will be the first leg of the return trip to Matteawan. Tonight Thaw will fly to Quebec to spend Sunday. He was accompanied by Frank Kennedy, Thaw's attorney general.

John Bourdeau, the rural chief of the M. C. H. band, Shaw's proud captor after he had crossed the Canadian frontier, was the filerim used by Jerome and his Canadian lawyers in obtaining the writ. The chief was persuaded that Shaw's detention in the Sherbrooke jail, on a defective commitment, might result in a damage suit for false arrest, so he petitioned Superior Judge Matthew Hutchinson

Judge Grants Acquiesces.

Judge Hutchinson, at first loath to disturb the status of the case, Thaw having been remanded to jail for an indefinite term by another judge, Arthur Globensky, finally consented to hear arguments on the writ at 11 a. m. The day when Thaw's lawyers will have an opportunity to oppose it.

If the writ is sustained, Thaw will be turned over to the municipal officers at once, will be taken to Court-house for hearing and doubtless thrust across the Vermont border, there to be seized by deputy sheriffs, acting for New York state on the warrant charging him with conspiracy.

Thaw's Lawyers Surprised.

Jermine's coup was made possible by the sudden return here of Judge Hutchinson, who had been in Maine on his vacation. By the merest chance,

Samuel Jacobs, chief counsel for the New York interests, was apprised of his return and made a dash back to Sherbrooke after leaping from a train bound for Montreal. The immigration authorities, also bound thither, returned on the next train and waited about

Thaw's lawyers were taken completely by surprise. Only two of them, Charles D. White and Harry D. Fraser, were in Sherbrooke. There was talk of bringing the chief counsel at risk of bringing the other counsel, J. S. Greenshields of Montreal, before a special train but he was indulging on his yacht in the St. Lawrence river and could not be reached until tonight. He will be here tomorrow. The second in command, W. C. McKeown, arrived.

JEROME WINS

in Montreal this evening, after the trial had been granted.

Abuse of Habeas Corpus.

We do not think this move will succeed in court, said McKenna. "New York is using John Bourdeau as a shield. It is an abuse of the writ of habeas corpus. A writ of habeas corpus is issued presumably in a prisoner's behalf. In this case it has been delivered him in the hands of his lawyer. We do not criticize our opponents for taking this action in our opinion for we doubtless should have taken like advantage should we have had the opportunity. However, there was a sort of mutual understanding that nothing was to be done in the case until Wednesday, next, when Roger Thompson's trial is to go on."

Mr. Jerome smiled grimly at his victory. The Thaw lawyers had thought the case would be more than enough to keep the Thaw family in the courts. The Thaw family, however, had committed Thaw. It had been said that the New York state was bringing pressure to bear upon Dupuis to withdraw the indictment.

Worked on Chief of Police.

With attention of the Thaw lawyers riveted on this, some one quietly visited Bourdeau and told him to sign the petition. It was presented to Judge Hutchinson in chambers by Samuel Jacobs, acting for New York. Stripped of its legal verbiage, it reviews the details of Thaw's arrest at Corticook on August 19, maintains that he is held on a faulty commitment, sets forth the desire of the petitioner to redress any wrong done Thaw and to avoid "any further liability for damages," and concludes as follows:

"Wherefore, your petitioner prays that a writ of habeas corpus issue, addressed to the said J. A. LaFore, who illegally detains the said Harry K. Thaw, in the common jail for said district, ordering him to forthwith bring and produce before a judge of the superior court, the body of the said Harry K. Thaw and show cause why the said Harry K. Thaw should be so detained, and that unless proper and legal cause of detention be shown, said writ of habeas corpus be maintained and said Harry K. Thaw set at liberty, and your petitioner will ever pray."

Of 10,000 townships in France having more than 1,000 inhabitants, about 6,000 are without any public lighting. Of the remainder there are 1,249 lighted by gas, 2,743 lighted by electricity and 112 by acetylene.

CURTAIN TO RISE

ing flame, will ride in the parade and break glass balls as he rides.

The old-time volunteer firemen of Colorado Springs will march in the parade, their float being an old hose wagon containing two beautiful young ladies. The older members of the volunteers, who cannot be expected to stand the long march, will be taken in carriages.

John A. Himebaugh is preparing an interesting float for the pioneers in the parade Tuesday. He has secured a big wagon, used for hauling scenery to the theaters, 10 by 40 feet, and on this will stage a pageant of the Pikes Peak region history. In the front will be a family of Pueblo Indians from the Cliff Dwellings at Manitou, who will depict the aboriginal days. Next will come a group of pioneers, and also the miners of 1860, to show the beginnings of territorial days. Statehood days and war times will be represented by a Grand Army man and agricultural products. Modern conditions will be shown by a flying machine, wireless telegraphy and an automobile. The Western Union company will put a uniformed boy on the float to distribute the wireless messages.

Exhibitions of Athletics.

The T. M. C. A. League, who put on a fancy tumbling and acrobatic stunt Wednesday night, scaled a 15-foot wall in one minute and 11 seconds last night in practice, but expect to beat that time considerably in the final show. Last spring they made the wall in 56.7-5 seconds. In addition the League will go through Indian club swinging with lighted clubs, horizontal bar and gymnastic stunts, and other athletic stunts. Their act will start about 8 o'clock before the parade.

Chairman C. B. Ferrin of the parade committee of the S. M. K. has been notified of a number of decorated automobiles that will be in the line of march. Originally it had not been intended to have decorated cars and no prizes have been offered, but Mr. Ferrin will be glad to give a place in line to any who enter.

Carl Blackman, who has charge of the automobiles in the night parade, has secured a list of auto owners who have agreed to ride through the grandstand carrying red lights and sparkers. Others are requested to fall in line. The automobiles will form Wednesday night on Nevada avenue opposite North Park. At a signal from the marshal they will start and ride through the Kiowa street grandstand lighting their sparkers as they enter. They will then ride to C grade avenue, and those who wish to may drop out of line, but a majority will go on to the Shan Kive grounds and there break ranks.

Auto Owners in Line.

Those who have consented to ride in the parade with their machines are: T. C. Kirkwood, R. O. Giddings, John Nichols, W. R. Armstrong, Dr. L. H. McKinnle, Mrs. A. G. Sharp, W. W. Price, Oliver Shoup, Horace Frantz, Dr. Blackman, Jesse H. Waters, Asa T. Jones, Berne Hopkins, M. Wilbur, Ashton Potter, B. S. Kaufman, Dr. D. H. Rice, C. W. Daniels, W. K. Jewett, L. A. Giddings, Robert Clough, A. Markshoffel, E. A. Svenson, Charles Burrie, Dr. Paul M. Lennox, James F. Burns, Glenn Blake, C. E. Heinenway, Charles B. Ferrin, J. C. St. John.

Entrance to the Shan Kive is free, the only expense necessary being care to Adams crossing, where the road to the grounds, brilliantly lighted, branches off from the street car line. Fare to Adams crossing is 5 cents.

The grounds themselves are brightly lighted and will be carefully policed night and day by deputy sheriffs. Water has been piped to the grounds by the Master Plumbers of Colorado Springs and many fine places for camping will be open.

Movie Men Will Be Here.

The Pathe Freres Motion Picture company is sending an operator here to take pictures of the show for the Pathe Weekly. Pathe Brothers had a machine here last year and the region received a large amount of publicity.

Besides special Shan Kive week rates on all railroads into Colorado Springs, the Denver & Rio Grande will run special trains between Denver and this city, September 1 to 4, inclusive. These trains leave Denver at 8:15 a. m. daily, and leave Colorado Springs returning at 10 p. m. each night, except the night of September 4, when the special leaves at 11:50 p. m. on account of the mask ball.

PORTER CHARLTON IS AT SCENE OF MURDER

Authorities Outwit Newspaper Men, Who Fail to See the Prisoner

GENOA, Italy, Aug. 30. - Porter Charlton, under escort of 150 Italian military police, was brought ashore here today from the steamship Re d'Italia. After a few hours in prison, he was hurried to the court where he is to stand trial for the murder of his wife three years ago.

The strictest measures of precaution were adopted to guard Charlton and by a stratagem the newspaper correspondents and photographers were prevented from approaching him. The head of the police invited the newspaper men aboard his launch. The invitation was eagerly accepted by the belief that this would be a good means to reach the prisoner. The launch set out for the Re d'Italia but suddenly stopped in midstream. All protests were unavailing, even when some of the American newspaper men threatened to take it up with the American authorities.

Charlton appeared in the launchway. He was handcuffed for the first time, but tried to conceal the fact by the use of a paper which was folded over his hands. He was very pale and kept biting his lips.

Instead of the Marassi prison, where a great crowd had gathered, he was taken to the barracks of the Carabinieri.

The crowds then rushed to the barracks, but the gates were closed and guarded. After a short introduction by the captain of the carabinieri, Charlton was put on the train for Comp. Lieutenant Franchini and Risso, who had resumed their uniforms, still acted as his guards.

GARMENT STRIKERS FIRE BUILDINGS IN ST. LOUIS?

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 30. - Several garment factories were imperiled by fire that followed an explosion in a building in the downtown district here tonight. PRES. WILSON TAKING THREE-DAY VACATION

CORNISH, N. H., Aug. 30. - Though in close touch with departments in Washington and with Mexico City, President Wilson announced tonight he spent the afternoon and evening at home. On his arrival here he received two long telephone messages relating to Mexico. The first message was not received.

In this time of vacation of the summer capital, he engaged the first member of his family for two months. The President's eldest daughter, Miss Mary, after Wilson has been visiting in the west since June and Mr. Wilson himself had not been here since early in July.

He was pleased to observe that his second daughter, Miss Jessie, was leaving for Mexico in November and finally recovered from the injuries received in falling from a horse recently.

Miss Eleanor Wilson, the youngest daughter, and Mrs. Wilson accompanied the president on the trip from Washington. The president plans to stay here until Tuesday, but may prolong his stay if developments in Mexico permit.

the straits in which the Mexican government finds itself. A discontented army might become uncontrollable.

Secretary Bryan before leaving Washington did not discuss the protest which came from Mexico City against President Wilson's advice to leave the country.

Protests Withdrawal of Americans

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. - Sebastian Camacho, president of the Mexican senate, has sent a telegram to James A. Sweeney of New York, president of the Mexican Telegraph company, requesting him to protest to President Wilson against the withdrawal of American citizens from Mexico. The message, made public here today, declares that the American colony in Mexico "is satisfied and tranquil" and that "tremendous damages" will result from its withdrawal.

"There is great alarm here," reads the telegram, "over the American government's order for the withdrawal of all citizens of the United States residing here. You will understand that there is no reason for this order."

"The American colony of this republic is one of the most numerous of those among us. In its totality, and with very few exceptions it is satisfied and tranquil, dedicated to its work and attending to the necessities of its life being respected and esteemed throughout the country. It would be seriously prejudiced in its welfare and its financial interests were it to abandon a country in which it is considered and esteemed and where it has acquired numerous and cordial relations."

Progress Being Made

"The present government of Mexico is a constitutional government whose public powers in most part have been in operation since 1910 and, in the senate, in the supreme court of justice and in the public offices in all parts, many of the public functionaries have been figuring first with the government headed by General Diaz, later with that of Mr. Madero. Very few exclusive privileges have been granted by the present government, which later is advancing daily in the reestablishment of peace in the greater part of the national territory."

"The army now counts 50,000 men with an armament and a command truly notable through which it has triumphed and continues triumphing in the daily combats with the enemy, who are disappearing by submitting to the legitimate authority of the republic."

"I do not doubt that the president of the United States and his truly just government will consult with the principal members of its colony here regarding the truth of what I say."

"The American colony, which reaches 40,000 persons I am sure, will suffer enormous damages in its interests and its well-being should its members violently abandon a country in which, I repeat, they are considered and esteemed on all sides."

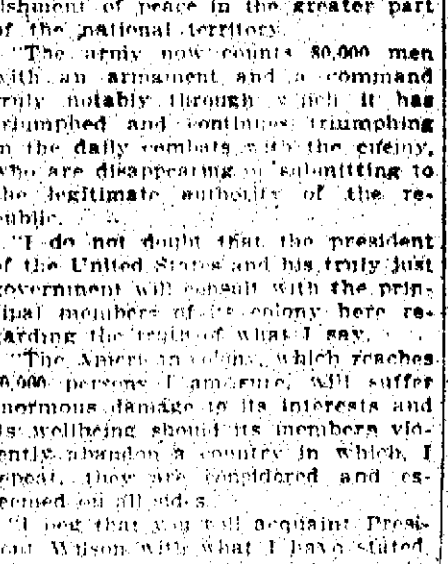

"I trust that you will continue President Wilson with what I have stated, calling his attention to the tremendous damages which will result from his determination for which, in my loyalty, I state there is no reason and, which undoubtedly, has been dictated against the sentiments of justice, of right and of human consideration, not by the elevated sentiments of a man as distinguished as the present president of the United States but through political ignorance of what is actually transpiring in Mexico."

COUPLE IN SUICIDE PACT; BOTH EXPECTED TO DIE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30. - Mrs. Annie Lyons, who was arrested here last night after the shooting of R. J. Widney, Jr., of Los Angeles, but was released upon the declaration of both parties that the affair was an accident, and Widney himself, are both under the care of physicians tonight as a result of what the coroner deems was a suicidal pact. The discovery of the body followed the receipt of reports to the local authorities by relatives of Widney, that every effort be made to find him.

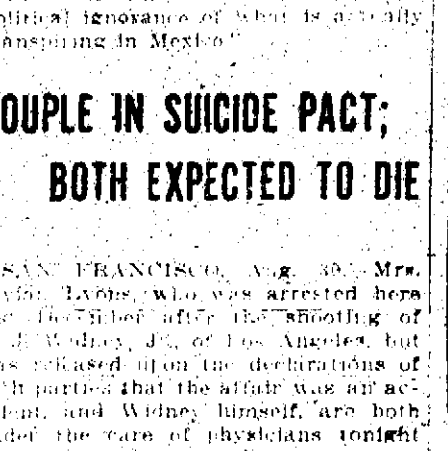

Mrs. Lyons, formerly a resident of Denver, who is married, was said to be a prominent Democratic politician. She was at the time of the shooting in Los Angeles. Widney was said to be a prominent politician. The girl's father, who is a prominent politician, is also in the city.

and we believe the best irrigated farming section of the United States is the famous San Luis Valley, which is the south central part of this state. This valley has produced record-breaking crops of wheat, oats, barley, field peas, alfalfa, potatoes, sugar beets and other vegetables. There is no such thing as a bad year in this valley, no blizzards and no cyclones. There is no frost or snow until late in the fall and no better place can be found for raising fruit and the growing of live stock. Valleys in the San Luis Valley and trips in other irrigated sections of the state. The San Luis Valley, which is the largest irrigated valley in the state, has about 40 miles wide by 80 miles in length.

We can sell you a smooth land in the valley with all sort water rights for irrigation, or from $25 an acre upwards. Anyone buying these lands at the above prices in a position to offer at present will surely reap a nice return, as values are increasing every year.

Come in and let us show you the excellent rates. We are now taking people into this valley each week from the drought-stricken districts of the middle West.

Cadillac leadership in scientific motor car development is once more strikingly demonstrated

A NEW QUALITY OF LUXURY

A NEW ELEMENT OF EFFICIENCY

Each year you have looked to the Cadillac for the real and substantial progress in motor car development.

You have looked to the Cadillac for the great essentials in the practical motor car.

And you have not looked in vain.

New concepts, if you can, a Cadillac with its essential functions sharpened, accentuated and refined.

Conceive such a process of refinement culminating in an entirely new riding quality of unexampled ease.

This is precisely what has come to pass in this new car.

The principal contributing factor the two speed direct drive axle is described in detail elsewhere.

The Cadillac Delco electrical system of automatic cranking, lighting and ignition, the first practical system ever made and first introduced by us, has, after experience with it on 27,000 Cadillacs, been still further developed, improved and simplified and the slight attention required from the user materially reduced.

The carburetor has been improved, its efficiency and its well-known economy increased. It is hot water cooled and electrically heated to facilitate starting in cold weather.

The rear springs are six inches longer.

The body design is new and strikingly handsome. Front seat passengers may enter or leave the car at either side.

These and many other refinements of essential details make for a greater and better Cadillac and serve to more firmly establish its position as America's leading motor car.

The Cadillac Company has never disappointed you in the smallest particular or in a single promise.

We promise you again, in this new car, a positive revelation in motor car luxury.

Cadillac two-speed direct drive axle

The advantages of this axle do not lie in its being an improvement so far as its functions as an axle are concerned, but rather in the manifold advantages attained in other directions through the medium of the axle.

In place of the single bevel piston and single driving gear common to ordinary construction, there are two bevel pistons and two bevel driving gears. This affords a different gear ratio, each driving direct from the engine to the axle without intermediate gearing.

The usual single direct drive gear ratios range from about 3.5 to 1 down to 4 to 1, according to the car. Any of these ratios is used only what it is, because a 3.5 to 1 gear ratio must be, or should be, the particular one which is best adapted for all around general use.

No one single gear can possibly be just right for all gears and for all conditions. But by using two direct drive axles we have greatly doubled the efficiency as it concerns the relation of power developed by the engine to the economical and efficient application and transmission of that power to the driving of the car.

In the new Cadillac axle we have, as before stated, two direct drive gear ratios. The low direct drive gear, which is 3.5 to 1, is specially adapted to city driving. It is used for starting, stopping and slowing down.

The high direct drive gear ratio, which is 4 to 1, is of special advantage where speeds of about 15 miles or more per hour are desirable.

The new axle also gives a further advantage by means of a 2.5 to 1 ratio, convenient for use in the city. The advantage of the high direct drive gear ratio lies primarily in the fact that with it, any given speed of the engine produces an increase of about 42 per cent in the speed of the car. For example, at an engine speed of 100 revolutions per minute, with the low direct gear engaged, the car will travel approximately 21 miles per hour; while on the high direct gear it will travel approximately 30 miles per hour with no increase in engine speed.

RUNNERS IN MARATHON IN GOOD SHAPE

COURSE IN VERY BEST CONDITION

Police to Protect Course and Crowds Will Have Good Chance to See

The stage is set, the runners are ready and everybody is on the qui vive for the premier sporting card of the season in the Pike's Peak region, the Shan Kive Marathon.

Tomorrow is the day, the Shan Kive the reason and no excuses are necessary.

Organized labor will usher in the events of tomorrow and immediately following the parade of the union men, the Pike's Peak Marathon will be run, at 3 o'clock. The start at Adams crossing on the western edge of Colorado City, will be made at that hour and for four miles, extending along Colorado avenue, through Colorado City and into Colorado Springs, up Cascade avenue and out on the Mesa the crowds will be stationed. The many advantages points offered spectators is an admirable feature of the event and scores of automobiles will follow the runners marking well every gain they make. The distance of 102 miles promises to be covered in record-breaking time. The chances of making new records are so good that hats are being offered on this feature of the race and the question of the effect of altitude is also being taken into consideration.

Mayor Charles L. McKesson will be the official starter and a corps of the city's prominent business men have been named as track officials. The police of Colorado Springs and Colorado City will be augmented by special officers and a motorcycle patrol will keep the track clear for the runners and afford a --regard for runners and spectators alike. The sheriff's office is extending special authority and no detail is lacking to make the event all it promises to be.

With 27 of the fleetest men in the west entered for the big event, the rivalry for honors will be spectacular. The entrants range in age from 16 years to 39 and represent many well-known athletes. Pitted with the trained college athlete will be cowboys, working men, "the man in overalls," doctors, business men and high school boys. One and all will arrive for first honors and for those who survive the contest special medals are offered.

The sunshine of the past week left the course hard and dry. The smooth surface over which the athletes will race will be the best that is in them. The varying of the wind will add to the spectacle for the crowd. The finish will be exciting in this race. The runners will swing from the rocks in the Garden of the Gods, over a down upon the crowds gathered at the judges' stand like so many locusts in the early days as they descend from these same rocks on a new descent.

The entire Shan Kive is to be staged in the Garden of the Gods, except for the preliminary in Colorado City. A grandstands erected for this will be filled with patrons of the Shan Kive on the afternoon of the race and a detour has been arranged for the runners so that they will be the grandstands on Kiowa street. Bands will be playing, colors flying and the society of the west will be gathered to do honor to the occasion.

From early tomorrow morning until after the race is run, everything will be busy and bustle in Colorado Springs. The prominent men of the city who are on the Shan Kive committee will suspend their usual activities to receive the athletes, entertain them at luncheon and take them over the course in automobiles. MALLISTER CLEVER BUT BLOWS LIKE FLY KICKS

By W. W. NAUGHTON. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—In the dingy course of things the Sailor Petroskey-Bob McAllister bout would have been dropped as a subject of discussion by this time. It was in no way a championship affair. It was a kind of knockdown or sensational episode and to be frank about it, it had no more right to live in memory than any one of the hundreds of commonplace events that are forgotten 24 hours after they occur. The claims of any unfair ruling on the part of McAllister's friends are likely to keep the contest alive as a theme until the men again get together. It is one of these cases in which the alleged miscarriage of justice looms up as a greater wrong with each day that passes. In the course of a few months until the return match intervenes McAllister's sympathizers will begin to regard Referee Jim Griffin's verdict as one of the foulest decisions ever given in a ring. It all comes of having too many friends. McAllister's cronies were sentimental about his promise of future greatness prior to the tussle and the fall—when he failed to win—was all the greater. If ever a man received every lot of credit that was coming to him, McAllister did when Griffin divided the honors between him and Sailor Petroskey.

The trouble with McAllister is that his blows are too light to imbue an opponent with a proper degree of respect. True, so far as speed and delivery were concerned he landed three punches maybe to Petroskey's one but what use were they?

In latter-day boxing, cleverness only counts when it accomplishes something and the McAllister cleverness in that particular occasion compares to gold-bearing rock that shows the color, and nothing more.

This may be putting it a little strong. These were odd punches from Bob that jarred the sailor a bit, and even raised blisters, but I am referring to the majority of leads and his counters and, goodness knows, he led and countered to such an extent that it was hard to keep track of the times he connected. And his average punch was little heavier than a fly kick.

Petroskey caught on early in the game and, right here, I would like to bark back to another contest I saw Petroskey engaged in. When he boxed Frank Klaus he sampled one of the Pittsburgher's rip-tearing uppercuts while the clang of the starting gong was still in his ears. It warned him there was trouble ahead and he acted accordingly. He covered up and if memory serves he remained covered up the greater part of the 20 rounds.

It required a quick and sure fist as fast as Klaus was concerned for the opening Petroskey left were mere pinholes.

It was very different in the affair with McAllister. The sailor, after taking a few straight lefts and short rights, discovered that Bob's stabs and raps did not carry an ounce of weight. The sailor grinned time and again when Bob's glove plumped between the eyes and inaugurated a policy of boring in which he maintained during the entire match.

However the bulk of McAllister's friends felt about it, I know that there were several of them near where I was who were exasperated over the small degree of force that McAllister injected into his deliveries. They thought, as I thought, that he was sacrificing everything to a desire to score frequently.

Three punches to the sailor's one, forsooth, but if he had dropped two of the three and put some driving power into the remaining one he might have removed the sailor's disdainful smile and piled up material credits that would have stood him in need at the judging time. But, no, there he stood, sending home clips and raps without drawing either elbow back or inch to accentuate the impact. Cunning little punches of that kind might tell in an old-time blackened-glove contest, but nowadays when ruggedness counts for so much in a Queensberry it is a boxer must not only be able to hit but hit hard.

When Petroskey smacked McAllister sorely in the fifteenth round it looked to me as though the tide had turned in the sailor's favor. Nor was there anything that happened between that and the twentieth round to lead me to think that McAllister had regained the lead.

As a matter of fact I felt sorry for the local lad with his distended mouth and his deathly white face and, while, as a general thing I do not allow my feelings to sway me when watching a glove contest, I was "pulling" for Master Bob to escape the distress and ignominy of being knocked out.

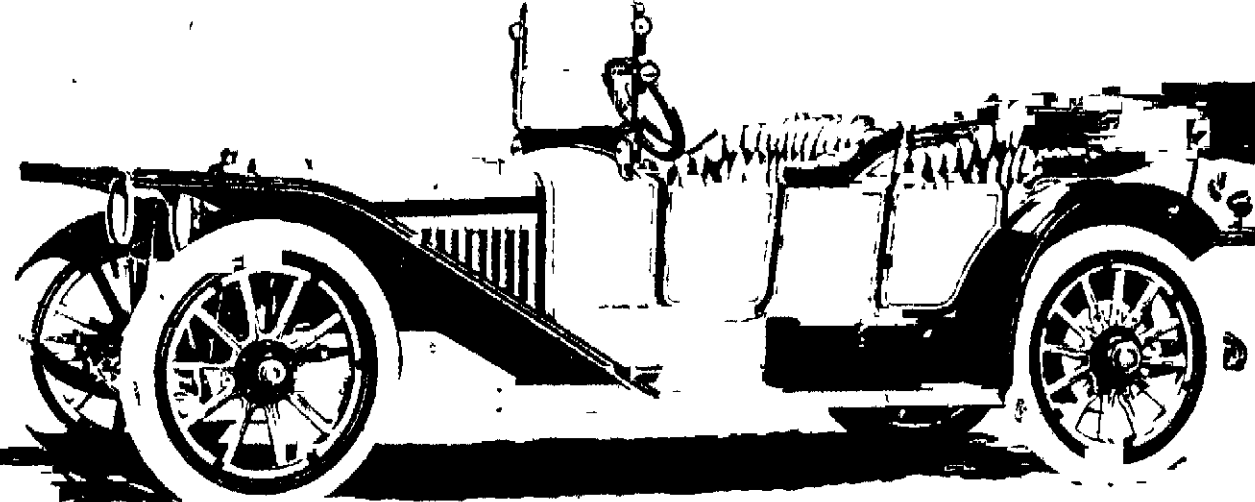

He escaped and he earned the right to share a draw decision. More than that, he did not achieve it and I cannot help but think it is the opinion that he got less than he deserved in more the outcome of the club spirit than a careful dispassionate review of what really happened.

It may be that there will be another bout. Some of McAllister's nearest friends are urging him to withdraw from fighting for a year, believing that he will store up sufficient vitality during a year's rest to enable him to make more of a mark when he returns to the ring.

The suggested move may be a good one if McAllister feels as the advice tendered. His show since he became a professional seems to indicate that a lack of ruggedness in his great set drawback.

We saw it from the moment that Chief Meyers in a few things. In fact it seemed that he was not showing

NEW YORK'S MAYORALTY FIGHT

THE real issue in the coming mayoralty election in New York is Tammany vs. everybody else, and the probability is that Tammany will win, as it usually does. For again it is a three-cornered fight. Seldom are there less than three candidates for Mayor of New York, and often four, and this division always redounds to the advantage of Tammany. Its forces are united, and their votes are cast solidly regardless of the personality of the candidate or the issue involved. Indeed, to Tammany voters there is no issue except the all-important one of electing their ticket.

The fusion forces—Independent Democrats, Republicans, Progressives and Independence Leaguers—have named John Purroy Mitchell, and Tammany has named Edward E. McCall, chairman of the Public Service Commission. Mayor Gaynor will run again as an independent candidate, and expects to receive his support chiefly from anti-Tammany Democrats and the anti-Tammany members of all parties. But although the Mayor professes to stand as the guardian of the people's rights, his record does not invite full confidence. Indeed, he would gladly have been the Tammany candidate as he was four years ago if he could have gotten the nomination.

It is a curious thing that New York, the richest and most populous city in America, cannot throw off the rule of a political gang which frankly and avowedly exists for plunder only. Tammany makes no pretensions to morality. It never prates of principle. It says plainly that it is in politics for the money there is in it, and it always gets the money.

It is idle to suppose that a large majority of the four million people of New York do not want honest, efficient government, yet somehow they are never able to pull together long enough to clean out the miserable gang of looters who operate under the name of Tammany Hall. Certainly the forthcoming election does not afford the slightest hope of relief.

"THE ROOF GARDEN OF THE WORLD"

THE happiest phrase that has yet been coined to describe the Pikes Peak Region is the one used by Governor Lister, of Washington, in his speech at the Governors' banquet Thursday evening: "the roof garden of the world." Tibet is celebrated as the "roof of the world," but the term refers only to its high elevation; it conveys no thought of beauty or pleasure. But roof garden is different; it suggests coolness, freedom from care and worry, recreation. In its broader sense, as Governor Lister applied it to the Pikes Peak Region, it fits like a glove. Colorado is literally the roof of the United States, for its average elevation is greater than that of any similar area in the country. And it is a garden spot as well. Combine the two terms and you have it—the roof garden of the world, to which all may come for pleasure and recreation.

The Chamber of Commerce ought to give Governor Lister a vote of thanks. He has provided it with the most effective advertising phrase yet devised.

DEMOCRACY AND DRESS SUITS

WHEN Thomas Jefferson was inaugurated he rode to the Capitol on his horse, hitched it to a post at the street corner, took the oath of office and then rode the nag back home. The incident has been related a thousand times because of its undying capacity to endear the Sage of Monticello to those of his fellow countrymen who think they love simplicity. It was so "democratic," so "unostentatious," so "free from affectation," if you want to look at it that way. But if you want to look at it in the sensible way, it was merely a silly pose, a palpable attempt to win the plaudits of the low polloi by pretending a degree of simplicity which was beneath the dignity of the occasion.

There is no more familiar type in American political life than the man who seeks the favor of "the pec-pu" by going among them in an exaggerated guise of homespun simplicity. He wears his oldest and shabbiest clothes while campaigning and lets them get sadly wrinkled and spotted. He exhibits a three-days' growth of beard, and—if he happens to be out among the farmers spits tobacco juice voluminously. He makes his speeches in his shirt sleeves and deliberately murders the King's English, and all the time prides himself that these things make a great hit with the people because they show that he is "democratic." The truth is that they disgust sensible people because they show that he is making a chump of himself.

Jerry Simpson of Kansas used to eschew socks, and Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas got fine press notices by his defiant repudiation of the silk hat. That aristocratic headgear was as sedulously avoided for years by Mr. Bryan to help cinch his title of "the Commoner," but when he got to be Secretary of State stern etiquette compelled him to cover his bulging dome with the despised tile. And so it goes.

No wonder then that the Denver News finds "an indication of Colorado's democracy" in the discovery that until last Thursday night Governor Ammons never had worn a dress suit. Witness this extract from the News' report of the Governors' banquet at the Antlers:

An event unknown to the guests, but worthy of mention as an indication of Colorado's democracy, was the fact that Governor Ammons was arrayed in the full glory of his first dress suit. "I have never worn one before, except at the ball here," he said. "But I want to look like everybody else even if I don't feel it," and he wrinkled uneasily behind the white shirt front and fashionable black silk vest.

The Governor is vastly more sensible than the News. He "wanted to look like everybody else"—hence he wore full dress. When in Rome do as the Romans do; on occasions when full dress is the proper thing and other people wear it why, wear full dress. Mr. Ammons would have been unpleasantly conspicuous if he had appeared at the head of the table that night in any other garb; as it was his clothes attracted no attention because he was properly dressed.

We earnestly hope that Colorado's democracy will not be lost, now that the Governor has bought a dress suit. A man ought to be able to remain a friend of the people nowadays even though he occasionally dons the raiment of the despised aristocrat.

REGULATING PARADES

To the Editor of The Gazette:
I would like to ask a question and ask it loud enough for the Shan Kive parade committee to hear. Why are the crowds in Colorado Springs permitted to rush out into the street during a parade? No parade can possibly appear to advantage at such close range, to say nothing of the danger, and it is certainly to the disadvantage of every spectator to be able to see only the small portion directly at the end of his nose rather than the larger portion possible from a greater distance.

A float or automobile is decorated with an eye to the general effect and often appears at a disadvantage at such close range where only the detail is observed and the general effect lost altogether.

Anyone who has witnessed a well regulated parade in a city is likely to draw comparisons uncomplimentary to our city.

It is gratifying to know that hereafter automobiles are not to be allowed on the streets during a parade but let the proper authorities go still farther and abolish this dangerous and absurd practice of rushing into the streets to witness a parade. Not that all who go into the street are to blame, for many protests can be heard from those there unwillingly enough, but of necessity, if they are to see at all.

This is a matter which should have been regulated years ago by the police department or more recently, commissioner of public safety, but since it has been so long neglected, why not let the parade committee of the Shan Kive embrace this opportunity to distinguish itself and present to the public of Colorado Springs the first well-regulated street parade in the history of our city.

SUBURBANITE.

THE DANGER OF SPITTING

To the Editor of The Gazette:
Several communications to the Open Parliament have recently appeared which deprecated the efforts being made in this city at the present time to abate and ultimately to abolish the habit of spitting. In the letters referred to various misstatements were made. Perhaps the wrong ideas there in promulgated can be best combated not by taking the errors on seriatim but by showing that the various germs coughed up by the sick and spread abroad by promiscuous expectoration do endanger the health of others.

As tuberculosis is the most common of the respiratory diseases which is seen on our streets in the person of the afflicted, let us for a moment see what may be the result of the general dissemination of the coughed up mucus.

The matter raised is, we will say, deposited on the sidewalk. Now fortunately if this mucus is undisturbed and gets a full and strong exposure to the sunlight, it will dry up and ultimately be destroyed. All the germs met will be killed by the germicidal action of the sunlight. This germicidal action is more powerful at this altitude than at sea level and the sunlight is fortunately much more abundant. But the mucus is more than likely carelessly trodden under foot, ground to dust by attraction and scattered hither and yon in the course of travel or carried into one's home by the unconscious owner of the guilty shoe. The polluted germs, either in the home or on the street may be and doubtless are inhaled by one or many. A climate which is very helpful in increasing the resistance of the body cells and which kills the light they are making against the germs already present.

There are many hundreds living here today because of the increased fighting power given to their cells by the tonic effect of this climate, who would not have been alive had they remained in less favorable localities.

But was it that you, Mr. Invalid, do all you can not to infect yourself by inhaling the dried sputum which you raise and not to endanger the lives of others, especially the lives of the little ones, by promiscuous spitting. Use sputum cups. They are for sale AT COST at the health department in the city hall. Use them and then burn them and your conscience will be clearer and our city will be cleaner.

Colorado Springs, Aug. 30.

BRYAN AND CHARITY.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.
Enveloped by what must at first glance appear to be an atmosphere of broadest sarcasm, yet it is just possible that those philanthropic and patriotic Texans are quite in earnest who announce their intention to "raise" a fund of $50,000 by subscription for the benefit of Secretary of State W. J. Bryan. If he will agree to abandon the lecture platform and devote his entire time to the state department.

One can hardly take such an amusing movement seriously, but names and places and details are given. Mr. Bryan has been informed, and the sequel will be awaited with absorbing interest, not only by the whole country, but also by the public men of foreign countries, the secretaries of state for foreign affairs, for instance, who may themselves be poor, but who have never thought of lecturing for money to help out the payment of house rent and other pressing domestic bills.

No matter what the real intention of the Texans is, whether it is really for the purpose of relieving the secretary of state from a financial embarrassment to which he has confessed, the incident will impress all right-thinking Americans with a deep sense of humiliation, and the mass will say that it is a disgrace that such offer should be made to the chief minister of the cabinet, who is first in line in succession for the presidency in the event of death or disability of the president and vice president.

No. 35 THE BATTLE AGAINST WASTE.

"Some of our greatest industrial organizations have learned that A. B. C. in waste elimination and have found themselves well repaid. The time is coming when every man who lays claim to business ability will keep the question of waste before him constantly."—Thomas A. Edison.

Professor Ferrero, the famous Italian historian, says of us: "The rapidity of your development and the creation of a multiplicity of new needs eat up the large earnings of the people, who, though they are living better than Europeans, unfortunately have not acquired the habit of saving."

It is a very good thing sometimes to see ourselves as others see us. While it is not possible, as Edmund Burke said, to bring an indictment against a whole people, there is a great deal of truth in what this distinguished foreigner said.

In New York city and at Washington there have been established bureaus of standards, which are bringing about a standardization of quality, quantity and price in materials and supplies which is resulting in an enormous saving of the people's money.

The New York bureau of standards has been in existence only about two years, but already on account of the immense economies effected, it has not only fully justified its establishment, but it has attracted the attention of persons everywhere who are interested in the public welfare. Efforts are being made to establish similar bureaus in other cities and for the benefit of the different departments of state government. The state of New York has a commissioner of efficiency and economy who is expected to save thousands and hundreds of thousands of dollars every year to the taxpayers of the state by the waste and the extravagances he will institute.

Officers of the government are beginning to realize the necessity of economy in this era of prodigality. Business men are waking up, too, and scientific management and economy are becoming the watchwords. An example is the big department store which employs a man whose sole duty it is to go around and turn off electric lights not in use. He saves the store more than his wages.

It will take a long time, however, for this lesson of economy to leave the whole tenor of our commercial and industrial extravagance, which, it is averted, costs the consumer 40 cents on every dollar. An interesting commentary on this subject is the fact that the humble junk business, the trader in second-hand things, has prospered in America more than in any other country. In Boston lives a dealer who has accumulated more than a million dollars. The leading dealer in Providence, who handles nothing but scrap iron, is worth half a million, while Philadelphia has two junk millionaires in the same business.

But, primarily, it is the individual citizen who is to blame for the extravagance, which seems to be in our blood. The whole American public is wild with spending. "Public economy is a lost art," says James J. Hill. "Extravagance is our national curse."

Says John D. Rockefeller: "Men and women who are living on salaries and whose income seems assured, do not stop to think where they would be if for any reason that income should cease, while times and conditions like the present incite them to spend and spend. Living costs much; luxuries are common—in fact, they are 'necessities' with many. The demand is always for more and more and more."

If Americans economized in good earnest for awhile, they could do some amazing things.

By cutting their liquor bills in half they would save $500,000,000 in a year. The people of this country pay $67,500,000 a year to foreigners for the supply of coffee. Should they drink a cup of coffee instead of two, they would save $28,750,000.

If Americans would buy one-half the hats they do the saving would amount to $24,000,000 in one year.

Let the men smoke pipes, if they like, but as for cigars—well, smoke one cigar where you now smoke two, and see what happens. The aggregate saving would easily amount to $106,000,000 in a year.

The World's Work sums up the case in this way:

"Three or four things are certain: First, the problem of making both ends meet is, as it has always been, a very hard problem for the average man and the average family; second, the average American man and family live a great deal better now than they did a century ago; third, a larger proportion of Americans than of any other nation live well, and fourth, a still larger proportion might live well if we had developed thrift and good management as several European peoples have. We are yet in that period of our national growth when we need, or unconsciously regard very carefully, management of one's personal expenditure as a somewhat niggardly and humiliating accomplishment."

What are you going to do about it?

WIDOWS WANT HELP FROM WASHINGTON STATE

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 30.—Since announcement was made that the operation of the recently enacted mothers pension law would cost King county $36,000 during the coming year, widows in all parts of the United States have written to J. A. Skurdison, investigator in charge of the county's pension bureau asking that they be placed on the roll. Mr. Skurdison received a letter today from a widow in Florida who wrote that her husband had died in Kentucky and that she was in want and would like to receive a pension from this county.

Another widow, 58 years old, living in Nebraska, wrote that she supported herself and two children by driving a milk wagon and asked the pension bureau to send her a blank application. An Ohio widow asked for a pension of $10 a month and a woman in Pennsylvania applied for aid because her earnings had been depleted by doctors' bills.

Skurdison informed them that only bona fide residents of King county were entitled to aid.

ESPERANTO

AN "ENTENTE" OF THE WORLD

The letter of Sir Versey Strong, formerly lord mayor of London, addressed through the "Polish Esperantist" to the Esperantists and the people of Europe and the world, was found too long for complete insertion in last week's Sunday Gazette, and in fact only the beginning was there presented, in which the writer develops the fact that the famous "Entente Cordiale" between Great Britain, France and Russia, is established not by a formal treaty, but by the spontaneous consent of the nations concerned. He continues:

"I wish all this. It follows, that for the welfare of the world there should be such an 'Entente Cordiale' not merely between two laws or three, but amongst all."

"We wish for an 'Entente Cordiale' but let it be with the world." But before attaining this, it will be necessary that we have a united Europe to which we may add, it is to be hoped, the United States of America. By such a combination, working together in a friendly union for the good of the nations, the peace of the world will be, we may hope, assured. For this end Sir Max Waechter has founded a league for the federation of Europe. A difficult task—but difficulties exist only to be conquered. He puts before the readers facts and figures, relating to the immeasurably great and always increasing outlay for armed forces. Europe expends at the present time the following sums:

For armies, each year.....$241,000,000
For navies, each year.....$125,000,000
Total.....$366,000,000

Three hundred sixty millions of pounds, sterling. As an English pound is approximately 16, this sum equals $1,800,000,000.

What would the Esperantists do with this unimaginable sum?

One thing, certainly, they would not waste it. They certainly would not buy with it means to put one another to death.

Oh! what limitless love and waste of precious and much needed wealth, in order that brothers of the human race may kill one another!

What kind of devil instigates the nations to rob humanity in order to murder it?

Who suffers? The whole race of man suffers—yes, above all, the poor. So Sir Max Waechter calls our attention to the dreadful waste of money—more seriously, to the inhuman waste of man's life and energy, which, if they were directed to wise uses, could serve for the blessing and the welfare of all mankind. He calls with all his might to the European nations, to cease such acts of madness, and to turn to the study of the means by which they can more profitably use the gifts of God.

"But how begin?" says this good friend of mankind. Let Britain begin, he replies. Great Britain, the friend of peace, the land of Edward the Deame-maker, and the land of his son, our reigning King George V. who is, perhaps, the most practical of all the kings who have ever ruled this empire. King George is a friend of all men, but especially of the poor. At this very moment he is engaged in making the rounds of his kingdom, without ceremony, in an automobile, visiting in person the cities and homes of his subjects. Thus he himself can the better observe how they live and labor, and study, in what way their lot can be improved, that they may more efficiently serve mankind. Such a royal visitation, devoid of pomp, has hitherto never occurred in the history of the British nation.

Wisely then, Sir Max Waechter says that the time is ripe for the consideration of such a theme. But it is easily seen that the unity of Europe is possible only if Great Britain and Germany are in perfect harmony. For this reason it is necessary that every effort for bringing about the friendship of Europe should begin with the hearty friendship of Great Britain and Germany. But this does not mean Britain and Germany against France and Russia, or against any other nation. Let Britain openly say to her friends, France and Russia, "We desire to become completely friendly with Germany—not against you, but for your sake, and for the sake of the whole world. Do not suspect us, but help us. We will inform you of the progress of the affair, and your position will not be changed, but on the contrary will be much improved."

After the establishment of an "Entente" between Great Britain and Germany, made with the honest intention

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—An announcement by Mayor Gaynor that he will pro- ceed to his own elimination from the mayoralty situation by accepting a reported nomination to be proffered him by the Progressives for chief justice of the state court of appeals was followed by efforts on the part of the fusion leaders to keep their candidates from accepting places on the independent ticket headed by Mayor Gaynor.

Theodore Roosevelt conferred with the fusion advisers and it was learned later that he urged the fusion candidates to make an out and out fight against Tammany and not to accept if they were offered designations on the Gaynor ticket. None of the fusion candidates has stated yet whether he will accept a designation under Mr. Gaynor.

Commercialism of Ball Magnates Hurts Game

Players Costing Much More Money Than Ever Before: Minors Driving Hard. Bargains

By W. J. MACBETH.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Organized baseball seems to be on the verge of losing its last vestige of sport for sport's sake. The commercial end of the enterprise overshadows all else. The magnates are out for the money and make no bones of the fact. The lust for gold is as deeply rooted in the minor leagues as in the major organizations.

The two big circuits depend upon patronage for financial gains. Because of this it is necessary for them to secure the very best talent to display before the public. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are expended every season by each club in the National and American leagues for the sole purpose of fortifying for the future. Every club owner has several highly paid scouts beating all around the country in search of likely looking "hust" timber. Some have as many as six scouts under salary. Besides these, there is a grand army of amateur sharpshooters who do business on a commission basis. This policy of near extravagance is all well enough for first division aggregations; the end more than justifies the means. But it is a serious drain upon the pocketbook of the unfortunate holders of second division franchises.

Heavy Expense in Cellars.

Because of their weakness, second division clubs in the major leagues call for the greatest expenditures. This makes their lot all the more severe. The money is put up on a sure gamble, because a club away down in the race is lucky to make interest on investment. The leading teams which might well afford to speculate in talent have not the same crying need to do so. But those leaders usually string along in a sort of "dog in the manger" fashion and often corral talent promisingly, which they cannot possibly use, just to keep it away from some lowly club owner, who now take every means of boosting their own game through press agent stuff. Every since the two big leagues went to year salaries have maintained the high standard that has been established. But the magnates in many announcements have never failed to exaggerate the remuneration of a star.

Salaries Increasing.

There were "newspaper" salaries of ten thousand dollars in the big leagues years ago when an athlete involved would have shaken hands with himself for receiving half the sum. And there are reputed salaries today which, if the truth were known, would shrink considerably in the wash of straight fact. But there are instances where the magnate has had to toe the mark and come across with the big money.

Ty Cobb of the Tigers is one. He is the highest paid athlete of the game. Bonuses will bring his present this year to fully $15,000. He might have been contented with half the sum if the magnates themselves had not educated the public and the players to the value of publicity. Cobb was in a dictatorial position. He knew that the Detroit management might as well lock up its park as to allow him to idle, while the once great Tiger machine was on the toboggan.

Much Extravagance.

In kindred fashion the promoters have injured their own cause by taking in stage money. The late John T. Brush set the fashion by paying an alleged $11,000 for "Rube" Marquard. There followed another "alleged" bit of extravagance on the part of Barney Dreyfus when St. Paul accepted $22,500 for Harry O'Toole. O'Toole, perhaps, did not cost more than a third of his reputed sale price, but the record figures made good reading throughout the country—and a big drawing card for Pittsburgh. Other clubs saw the advantage. Players that formerly could be had at modest figures soon began to arrive in fast company, heralded as "record" purchases. For a while the minor leagues smiled up their sleeves. Then they began to take advantage of this mania for publicity and boosted the figures steadily. The result has naturally followed that within the past two or three years the price of "hust" league talent has tripled. Major leagues are not paying today what they say they are for minor league players. But still they are paying in many cases double and treble the real value of the players.

Here is a little example. Charlie Comiskey wished to land Chappelle of Milwaukee. The tip passed around mysteriously somehow. Almost every major league rival immediately cast in an offer. Comiskey finally landed his prize, but not until he had to part with several times the original figure. It was the same thing with Frank Farrell when he went after Naisel. The Boston Nationals were dead set on taking him away from New York. Stallings offered $10,000 and two players. Farrell had to give up two first-rate players and a big bundle of cold cash.

Holdup Games Don't Work.

Farrell also wanted outfielder Gilbohy of Montreal. He would have been a good buy at $3,000 or $4,000. But when the Montreal boss heard of what Jack Dunn had done in the Mabel deal, Gilbohy's price immediately became prohibitive. Sammy Litchfield modestly asked two players and $10,000. He got the cold shoulder. Then the Chicago boss made a deal and well as lose his first through the draft. New York may land Gil-

Both Tyler and Quinn pitched well, but pitcher Quinn pitched better than the local batsmen at his mercy, and it was not until the ninth inning that the second game that the Brooklyn batters were able to score. TAILENDERS WHIP MACKS

CLEVELAND AGAIN NEAR CHANCE TO WIN

Washington Takes Double-Header From Red Sox; Detroit Wins

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The tail-end New York Americans sprang a big surprise on the pace-making Athletics today by defeating them in both ends of a double-header, the scores being 5 to 0 and 4 to 4. It was the Philadelphia batters last night who were the American league contest, this season, and marked their first defeat in New York since the spring of 1912.

Caldwell pitched the best game of his career in the opening contest, holding the hard-hitting visitors to two runs. He was well backed up by the rest of the team. Houch pitched well in the second game, but the New York batters gained a commanding lead by bunching hits on Brown in the first and second innings, when they scored four runs. Bush, his successor, was a bit more luckless. He pitched well for New York until the seventh, when four Athletics hits drove him off the mound. Keating finished the inning, but Caldwell, who had held the visitors scoreless in the first game, was sent in in the eighth and struck out three batters to face him.

WASHINGTON WINS DOUBLE.

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—Hits for extra bases figured largely for Washington in winning both games of a double-header from Boston today. The first by a score of 4 to 1 and the second, 4 to 0.

First game—Score: R.H.E. Washington.....1 3 0 0 0 0 0 0—4 10 1 Boston.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 1 2 Egan and Henry; Bedient, Leonard and Cady, Thomas.

DETROIT, 5; CHICAGO, 5.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Chicago failed to hit with men on bases today and lost the opening game of the farewell season with Detroit. The locals also blundered badly on the field, errors by Lord and Schalk proving costly. Scott was taken out in the fifth to permit Roush to bat for him, and was supplanted by White.

Not a local player has crossed the home plate with a run for 41 innings. On the other hand, Cleveland bunched hits off Wellman's delivery and scored four runs. It was the locals' eighth defeat this season. St. Louis being the first team to suffer that many defeats during the present season.

Riot at Philly When Game Is Given to N. Y.

SPECTATORS MOB UMPIRES AND GIANTS

Waving Hats Bother M'Graw's Hitters, He Kicks; Dooin Was in the Lead

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 30.—Umpire Brennan forfeited today's game between Philadelphia and New York to the latter in the ninth inning. At the time the home team was leading, 5 to 4.

After McCormick, batting for Merkle in the ninth had been retired, Manager McGraw complained to umpire Brennan that spectators waving their straw hats in the center field bleachers reflected the same rays into the eyes of the batsmen. Umpire Brennan appealed to Captain Doolan of the Philadelphia team to have the spectators moved away from the center field section. Doolan consulted Manager McGraw, who had previously been banished to the bench. Dooin said he could do nothing and then the police were called on. None of the crowd, which filled every part of the park, was on the playing field, but it was requested that those occupying seats directly in line with the pitcher and batsman move to some other place. There was little space to move to and the spectators, who had been there almost from the start of the game, would not budge.

After a long conversation the game was forfeited. Manager Dooin said that he proposed to Manager McGraw that they play out the game under protest. Dooin said that McGraw agreed and so Umpire Brennan made the announcement awarding the game to New York.

As soon as the word had been spoken, the New York players had a rush across the field to the club house. As quick as they left, some of the fans were there ahead of them and showered upon them all kinds of names. Some missiles were hurled, but no one hurt.

Meanwhile the umpires lost no time in seeking cover. They had to pass close to the grandstand and before they were safely in their dressing rooms they had been pelted with cushions. One cushion struck umpire Brennan in the back of the neck. In a minute police were called to scatter the crowd that hung around the park and in the grounds. The police saw that the umpires got away from the park and also gave protection to the New York players. Several of the New York players were struck by missiles on their way from the grounds to the railroad station. It was a

This "On-Air Cure" In No-Rim-Cut Tires Costs Us $1,500 Daily

No Other Maker Employs It

Done to Save Blow-Outs

Here is the reason why Goodyear tires are the best in the world.

Another big advantage is that No-Rim-Cut tires are final-vulcanized on air-bags, shaped like inner tubes. All other tires are vulcanized on iron cores alone.

We cure the tires on elastic air, because they are used on air. Thus the rubber and fabric adjust themselves to actual road conditions. Every part of the fabric bears its share of the strain.

Curing involves a tremendous compression. When this is done on an iron core, the fabric often buckles. This wrinkled fabric escapes its share of the strain; and that leads to countless blow-outs.

We add to our cost $1,500 daily to save those blow-outs by this "On-Air Cure." And no other maker does that.

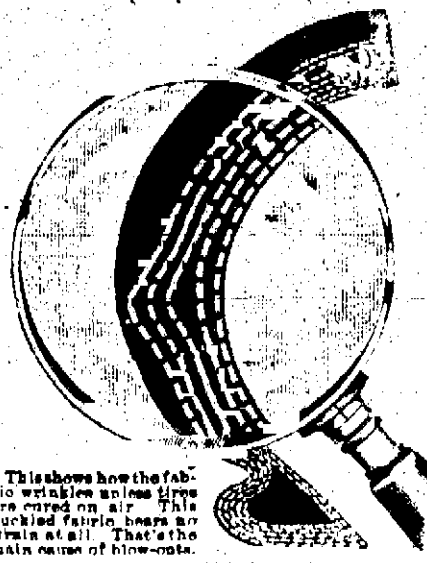

Our Treads Alone Are Rubber-Riveted

In the usual tire, another big item in tire upkeep is due to loosened treads.

This occurs near the breaker strip—the fabric strip at the base of the tread in every well-made tire.

We use a patent fabric, woven with hundreds of quarter-inch holes. The tread rubber is forced down through these holes. Thus hundreds of large rubber rivets are made to prevent tread separation. Then the whole tire is vulcanized en masse.

other tire, because we have exclusive use of this patent.

How We Alone End Rim-Cutting

Then we control the No-Rim-Cut tire, which makes rim-cutting impossible.

The braided wire bands, which make this feasible, are controlled by secrecy. No one else can make them.

With clincher tires—the hooked-base tires—rim-cutting ruins almost one tire in three. This is shown by statistics lately gathered by certified public accountants.

No-Rim-Cut tires end this waste entirely. That we guarantee.

No Extra Price

We offer you tires that can't rim-cut—With "On-Air-Cure" to save blow-outs—

With the rubber-riveted treads—

Yet they cost you no extra price.

No-Rim-Cut tires, with these costly features, used to cost one-fifth more than clinchers. We brought the cost down by our multiplied output. Now no standard tire of any type costs less than No-Rim-Cut tires. Some lesser tires cost more.

All these economies, which we alone employ, add not one penny to the price to you. That's why Goodyear tires outsell any other tire. Our dealers are everywhere.

DENVER PRAIRIE DOGS WIN POLO TOURNAMENT; DEFEAT SPRINGS IN FAST GAME, 8-4

Week Has Been Brilliant One and "Sport of Kings" Given Big Boost; May Organize Teams in Pikes Peak Region

Playing a steady and accurate game that their disorganized opponents could not solve, the Denver Prairie Dogs yesterday afternoon defeated the Cheyenne Mountain Country club by the score of 8 to 4, winning the Lyle cup and finishing the tournament with a clean slate, having won four and lost none.

The feature of the day was the desperate playing of Johnny Hobbs for goals when their mounts got beyond their control or they missed healthy swings.

The Denver four's team work showed more strongly than ever in yesterday's final contest. Time and time again the Whites would take the ball down the length of the field on long shots and send it across the line just outside the posts. In the eighth period the Denver four tied up the game with two easy goals. Turner and Symes making them. Harry Huston's hard riding and long drives were no small factors in the winning.

Hobbs Game's Bright Star.

In the seventh Johnny Hobbs drove a 450-foot stroke to goal, one of the prettiest of the week. His play during this period was especially brilliant and the stands gave him an ovation when he came near them. Two goals in rapid succession, one by Hobbs and the other by Webb, featured this period for the locals, being the only scoring on the part of the Brown and White during the game. The locals started with a handicap of three goals and lost a quarter of a point on a safety.

Yesterday's victory gave the honors of the tournament to the Prairie Dogs and the two handsome cups, the Lyle and Foxhall Keene trophies, were taken to Denver last night by the team.

In the second game yesterday, a battle between two junior teams that ended considerably and proved uninteresting, team A, with Raynor Gardner as captain and playing good polo, won easily. The young rider showed considerable promise and knowledge of the game. A rack of polo points, steadily across the field, proved a pretty event for those who waited until late to see them. The little horse was a good one.

Team's Finest at End.

Except for a few practice games, polo has officially ended in Colorado Springs for the 1913 season. The meliata have been put away and the ponies will be put on the range. The ponies of the Sheridan, Wyo. team were taken to Denver yesterday, where the Wyoming team will compete in a 10-day tournament at the Denver Country club. The Cavalry has departed, bag and baggage, and the Denver Country club left Friday. The Prairie Dogs and their ponies will leave today.

Probably never before in the west has such a brilliant and interesting affair been staged as during the last 10 days. The revival tournament of the Cheyenne Mountain Country club was

NEW OFFICIALS FOR MARATHON TOMORROW

Everything in Readiness for Big Event Formally
Opening Shan Kive

Twenty-nine athletes are eagerly awaiting the starter's gun tomorrow afternoon, when the Shan Kive marathon will be opened and the big summer carnival of Colorado Springs officially started. A number of the athletes from Denver and other parts of the state will reach Colorado Springs today.

Fyke Johnson, sporting editor of the Denver News, has been named as referee. H. A. Hamilton has been named as third time keeper in place of Arthur Perkins who is out of the city.

Joseph W. Egan, chief judge of the course, has named the following assistant judges for marathon, who will have motor cycles and will watch the course from stations selected by the chief. With the use of motorcycles and bicycles and checking stations the runners will be under constant supervision of one or more judges from start to finish.

A distinct success and the people had a taste of some real sport.

The interest shown exceeded even the fondest hopes of those in charge and although the event was probably the most costly ever staged here, the financial support of the public was gratifying to the club.

To Captain Ashton Potter, president of the Country club and chairman of the polo committee, belongs much credit for the staging of the tournament. He was assisted by Manager William Dunning of the Antlers in his negotiations.

The results of the week's games were as follows:

Saturday, August 23.
Cheyenne Mountain Country club, 10; Denver Country club, 4; Denver Prairie Dogs, 5; Sheridan Polo ranch, 3.

Sunday, August 24.
Cheyenne Mountain Country club, 10; Twelfth Cavalry, 1.

Tuesday, August 26.
Sheridan Polo ranch, 10; Denver Country club, 4.

ANDERSON WINS RACE

GOES 71 MILES AN HOUR
TO NEW RECORD

Hard Luck Driver Beats
Down Tradition; No
Serious Accidents

ELGIN, Ill., Aug. 30.—Gil Anderson, driving a Stutz car 302 miles at the rate of 71 1/2 miles an hour, today won the Elgin national road race in 4:12:39. Ralph Mulford, who won the race in 1910, finished second; Spencer Wishart, third.

The weather was perfect and 50,000 persons saw the contest in which 12 cars started. Rickenbacher, pilot of a Mason, went out of the race in the first lap. The car ahead of him had skidded and to avoid bumping it Rickenbacher drove into a ditch, breaking a rear axle. Haupt, another Mason driver, was a contender in the race for 245 miles when his engine burned out and he limped off the course. Bob Burman also drove a pretty race in his Keeton, but he quit at 158 miles with a coked cylinder. Henning's Velle car lasted only 33 miles. Bergdoll, who drove an Erwin Special, seemed to have third place secured at 258 miles, but he allowed himself to run out of gasoline on the back stretch and ceased to figure. Anderson, by his performance today, broke the record for the event. His speed, 71 1/2 miles an hour, compares with 62 1/2 made by Mulford in 1910; 66 1/2 in 1911 by Len Zengel and 68 1/2 a year ago when DePalma won.

Anderson did more for he emerged from under the shadow of racing misfortune which had gained the title of the champion hard luck driver of the country. At Indianapolis last May he held second position until the last 30 miles and in this city a year ago he was again second. Today's race was the first win of his career as a driver, for which he forsook the earlier calling of a marine engineer.

The race was remarkable for the number of cars that stayed on the track and for the closeness of the contest. At 100 miles Dawson, Haupt and Burman were only a few seconds apart.

DECIDE STATE TITLE IN ZOOL-K. C. SERIES

Baseball Season Waning and Double-Header Promises
Good Sport

According to all the scientific diamond dogs available some of the best ball of the season is going to be staged at Zoo park this afternoon and tomorrow when the Zoos and the Denver Knights of Columbus lock horns in two games, the result of which will go far toward determining who has the best claim to the state championship.

Of the teams outside of Denver the locals are generally conceded to be the class of the state, and they have been practically every Denver team defeated, while of the Denver teams the Knights won the championship last year and are in the lead this season. In the fourth of July series the Denverites took two out of three from the locals and to get the odd game the Zoos will have to win both today and tomorrow.

On their showing in the last few weeks since the twirling staff has been strengthened by the addition of Fusick, who has yet to lose a game, and the fielding and hitting departments strengthened with Jimmie Counts at third, and Morris, who has been captain of the Greeley team all summer, at short, the Zoos look to have the edge on any team in the state, but the Knights have also strengthened by the addition of two or three of the best players from other Denver teams.

Twirlers in Good Shape

Fusick will probably be the choice for today's game although if Manager Ryan of the visitors should decide to save his star finger, Nichols, for the Labor Day game, Manager Hall may decide, to depend on Hastings and Lomax, both of whom have been working out regularly this week, today, saving Fusick for what will be the decisive game Monday if the locals win this afternoon.

Tomorrow there will be a double-header for one admission, the first game at 1:30 being between the Painters and the Plumbers of the Union Labor league, who are fighting it out for second place and crowding the leaders. The Zoos-Knights game will begin at 3:30, and the day's program promises to draw a record crowd.

The Zoo proper will close Labor Day, but the Sunday baseball games will continue as long as the weather is good, as the fans want baseball as long as it is to be had.
